Dr. Dan Diaco is a surgeon, plastic surgeon, sports doc, triathlete, and entrepreneur. Now, you can add inventor to that list, with the March 2010 launch of Fein Energy Crystals. As one of the driving forces behind Fein Innovations, LLC, Dr. Diaco knows how to “Conquer the night, and take on the day!”™

Dr. Dan Diaco is a member of the American Society of Plastic Surgeons as well as a board certified plastic surgeon, located in Tampa Florida. He served as Chief of Plastic Surgeons at St. Joseph's Hospital for four years, and also as team physician for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2002-2009.

After graduating valedictorian and Rotary Student of the year of Northeast High School in St. Petersburg, Florida, Dr. Diaco chose Duke University to prepare himself for a medical career. He studied at Duke University, where he graduated Cum Laude. He selected the University of Florida College of Medicine in Gainesville, Florida, for his medical education. Following his medical training at UF, Dr. Diaco completed his residency at Louisiana State University's College of Medicine in New Orleans, LA. He continued to excel in medicine, being named the 1993 Intern of the Year at Charity Hospital in New Orleans. It was during his training at LSU that Dr. Diaco chose plastic and reconstructive surgery as his area of expertise. Upon selecting his specialty, Dr. Diaco was pleased to learn that his final training would return him to the Tampa Bay area where he grew up. He returned to Tampa in 1995 and began sub-specialized training in plastic and reconstructive surgery at the University of South Florida's College of Medicine.
